To all Members:

I want to personally invite each and every cadet and senior member to attend this year's Wing Conference. Once again, our conference team has put together an outstanding program. Take advantage of this rare opportunity to meet our National Commander and special guest, BG Amy Courter, who will be with us on Saturday morning to address the general assembly and present the highest professional development awards to our most accomplished members. In addition, please join me in recognizing and thanking those members who have done so much this year to move New Jersey Wing forward.

Our theme this year is Leaders in Service in recognition of the importance of the contributions that each of you makes, as individual and team leaders, to our future success, and to our fellow citizens whom we seek to serve with distinction. Our afternoon seminar series includes four seminars on leadership taught by an outstanding corps of professional Air Force instructors. Three cadet seminars have been developed by cadets for cadets. Presenters include former CAP cadets who are now actively enrolled in service academies and ROTC. All of our wing staff will be on hand to meet with members who wish to learn more about their specialties and to learn how we can better serve all of you. Our evening banquet promises to be a fun social time to enjoy the camaraderie of fellow members, dust off the dancing shoes, and see if our senior members can outwit, outsmart, or outrun our cadets as our host presents a variety of fun and challenging games.

If you have not registered for the conference and/or banquet, please take the time to do so now. The postmark deadline for banquet registration has been extended to 4PM on Monday, March 17th. Prices have been reduced this year to make attendance affordable for everyone. The deadline for early conference registration has also been extended. Conference registrations received by March 24th qualify for an additional $10 discount over the door price. Registration forms are readily available on our wing website at <http://www.njwg.cap.gov/conference/index.html>. Please register at your earliest convenience – this will reduce the workload on our conference staff.

Leadership begins with you. I thank you for your hard work and dedication and hope to see all of you at this year's conference to celebrate our successes and reaffirm a common vision of our future.

Sincerely,
